Annual Report Ohio State Regent.

THE State Regent has the honor to submit to the chapters in Ohio her Annual Report to the National Society, adding a short summary of the various chapters, with list of members, as well as other matters of value in regard to the organization that may add interest to the work in this State. She asks for a hearty co-operation of women throughout the State, and would appreciate a suggestion of names of those capable to take charge of the organization of new chapters, in order that Ohio may rank in the forefront of the Society.

MRS. A. HOWARD HINKLE,
STATE REGENT.

TO THE PRESIDENT AND NATIONAL BOARD OF MANAGEMENT, DAUGHTERS OF THE AMERICAN REVOLUTION:

Ladies—It gives me great pleasure to extend to this Third Continental Congress the best wishes of the State of Ohio. Appointed to the honorable position of State Regent of Ohio only a short time before the last Congress assembled, I was a quiet observer of its deliberations. I returned home, however, with the earnest purpose of doing a work in my State which would place it where it belongs—foremost among the commonwealths of our great country. I hoped to be able to vie with the Regents of such States as Massachusetts, Virginia, Pennsylvania, and Connecticut, but as often happens—man proposes, God disposes. Illness overtook me for the first time in my life, and my work languished. Still, I have to report the formation of the following chapters: The first chapter in Ohio was formed in Cleveland, 1891, and called "The Western Reserve." Under the wise direction of its able Regent, Mrs. Elroy M. Avery, it has grown to be a power for the promotion of all that is patriotic, and in the spirit of the work of the objects of our Society.

The Western Reserve Chapter now contains forty-eight members, and has present at this Congress its Regent, Mrs. Avery, a delegate, and two alternates.

The second chapter in Ohio is that of Youngstown, called "The Mahoning Chapter," numbering twenty members. This Chapter organized April 19, 1893, in a log cabin, on the land of the patriot ancestor of twelve members of the Chapter—one granddaughter, three great-granddaughters, seven great-great-granddaughters, and one great-great-great-granddaughter—four generations of one patriot.

The third chapter formed was in Cincinnati, April 27, 1893, Mrs. Brent Arnold, Regent. The name given was that of "The Cincinnati Chapter." To-day it contains sixty-five members, among them a lineal descendant of Josiah Bartlett, first signer of the Declaration of Independence, and sends to this Congress Mrs. H. B. Morehead and Mrs. Frank Wilson.

The next work to record is that of Zanesville, "The Muskingum Chapter." This numbers fourteen members. Its Regent, Mrs. Edward Cone Brush, is with us to-day.

Next in order comes the Conneaut, theirs being "The Walter Deane Chapter," Mrs. Clarissa Kellogg Lyon, Regent, represented by Mrs. Hickox. This is another case where the incentive to organize arose from there being enough descendants of one Revolutionary hero to form a chapter.

Chillicothe has a Regent, Miss McClintock, and the work there is progressing. A Regent has been appointed for Toledo, Mrs. W. H. H. Smith, who is present at this Congress. Eaton also has a Regent, Mrs. Roddie Reynolds. In Hamilton, Mrs. E. G. Rathbone, of "The Dolly Madison Chapter," has been made Regent, and has undertaken the work of organization.

To all parts of the State letters have been written, and from its various small towns members to the National Society have been secured. The enthusiasm of the women of Ohio is aroused, and under wise and just leaders on the National Board of Management, as well as competent local officers, the Society must grow to wield great power in fostering love of country, and perpetuation of the memory and spirit of our ancestors of Revolutionary fame. The country at large feels an unrest because of the resignations from the National Board of some of the women of acknowledged ability and patriotism.

In the State of Ohio I can speak of what I do know, and let me beg the present Congress to calm the doubts of those who would join us but fear to do so. Let us not forget the watchword of our country: "United we stand, divided we fall."

Very respectfully,

KATE D. HINKLE,

Ohio State Regent.

Suggestions.

IN response to "How to Organize a Chapter," we would call attention, first, to the point which is indispensable, that of having twelve members of the National Society of Daughters of the American Revolution in the same locality, whose application papers are approved and fees paid. To secure this requisite number generally requires some special effort in interesting persons who are eligible, and also in assisting them to look up the Revolutionary record of their ancestors. To give such assistance, and to develop the objects of the Society in a community unfamiliar with them, is the allotted task of the Chapter Regent, often appointed to a place remote from the center from which she may expect to draw information and inspiration in her work. It may thus be seen that there is reason in the custom of appointing Chapter Regents where there are, perhaps, no Daughters, and she has to struggle on alone. Some of our most active Chapters have grown from such beginnings. Where there are already several members of the Society in one place, and no Regent has been assigned to it, they may, if they prefer, elect their own Regent, or they may ask their State Regent to appoint one; but, in either case, as soon as the organization of a Chapter is contemplated, a formal authorization to do so must be obtained from the National Board of Management, according to Article VII, Section 1, of the Constitution. This authority must be asked through the State Regent, where there is one, or, where without, through the Vice-President-General in charge of organization. The Chapter Regent appointed or elected may appoint the necessary officers of her Chapter for the first year. When these officers—Regent, Secretary, Treasurer, and Registrar—have accepted their respective positions, and a Local Board of Management is elected, the Chapter is ready for work, and should immediately report its organization to the Recording Secretary of the National Board, according to the By-Laws of the National Society, with a list of officers and members, and should send, at the same time, a duplicate report to their State Regent. The Recording Secretary, after making her note of the Chapter, refers this official report of organization to the Vice-President in charge of organization, who has the responsibility in this department of the Society.

The Chapter can use its own discretion about other officers than those named who are essential to organization. Every Chapter would find it wise to have a Historian, but this and other officers may be added one by one later on. It is well, also, not to be hurried in making By-Laws, which should be duly considered. A certain familiarity with the Constitution of the National Society and with the By-Laws of the older Chapters will aid materially in forming such laws as are helpful and practical. The Local Board of Management, or Committee of Safety, as some Chapters call it, should consider the By-Laws at length before presenting them to the Chapter; they should be read at one meeting of the Chapter and voted on, section by section, at the next.—American Monthly Magazine.

ELIGIBILITY.

Any woman may be eligible for membership who is of the age of eighteen years, and who is descended from an ancestor who, with unflinching loyalty, rendered material aid to the cause of Independence as a recognized patriot, as a soldier, or sailor, or as a civil officer in one of the several colonies or States, or of the United Colonies or States; provided that the applicant shall be acceptable to the Society.

OBJECTS OF THE SOCIETY.

The National Society of Daughters of the American Revolution was organized in the City of Washington, on October 11, 1890, the anniversary of the discovery of America by Columbus. The objects of the Society are:

1. To perpetuate the memory and the spirit of the men and women who achieved American independence, by the acquisition and protection of historical spots, and the erection of monuments; by the encouragement of historical research in relation to the Revolution and the publication of its results; by the preservation of documents and relics, and of the records of the individual services of Revolutionary soldiers and patriots; and by the promotions of celebrations of all patriotic anniversaries.

2. To carry out the injunction of Washington in his farewell address to the American people, "to promote, as an object of primary importance, institutions for the general diffusion of knowledge," thus developing an enlightened public opinion, and affording to young and old such advantages as shall develop in them the largest capacity for performing the duties of American citizens.

3. To cherish, maintain, and extend the institutions of American freedom, to foster true patriotism and love of country, and to aid in securing for mankind all the blessings of liberty.

ORGANIZATION OF CHAPTERS.

a. When twelve members of the Society shall be living in one locality, they may, after formal authorization by the National Board of Management, organize a Chapter. They may elect a presiding officer, whose title will be Regent, and who will be a delegate to the Continental Congress of the National Society, a Secretary and Registrar, and such other officers as may be required.

b. After a Local Board of Management shall have been established, all applications for membership shall be passed upon by the Local Board, and if the applicant shall be deemed satisfactory and her eligibility established, the applicant shall receive the indorsement of the Regent, Secretary and Registrar, and be forwarded to the National Board of Management for final action.

c. The local Chapters may enact by-laws for their own government in harmony with the constitution of the National Society.
